

Steve Dudash, ASLA
Charleston Regional Director
Thomas and Hutton

Steve Dudash is the Regional Director of the Charleston office for Thomas & Hutton, a consulting and professional services firm serving the Southeast for 70 years with offices located in Charleston, Charlotte, Columbia, Myrtle Beach, and Greenville, South Carolina; Savannah and Brunswick, Georgia; Charlotte, North Carolina; and Nashville, Tennessee. Steve has 32 years of experience in land-use planning, master planning, and landscape architecture. His projects have won numerous design awards while meeting the highest design standards, as well as incorporating sustainable practices.

Steve's projects include Daniel Island, Beresford Hall, l'On Village, Chicora Park, RiverTowne, Shem Creek Park in the Charleston Area, and Lake Carolina in Columbia and Grand Haven in Palm Coast, Fla. All projects have an emphasis on walkability and public parks.

Steve was the director of the ULISC Sustainability Leadership class for 5 years.

Steve is a licensed Professional Landscape Architect and is a founding member for the Coastal Transit Institute advocating for BRT and better Mass Transit as well as TODs in the coastal area of South Carolina. Steve is also Chair of the non-profit MatchingFund.

Education

Louisiana State University – Masters in Landscape Architecture, 1983

Clemson University – B.S. in Landscape Architecture, 1980